PRICE FIVE CENTS

WILL CHOOSE COMMITTEES FOR 2 PARTIES

Tuesday's primary will not only select the candidates who will be opposed at the November election — it will also be election day for 266 persons for party office.

TO ELECT COMMITTEES

County party members will be electing 254 committeemen, 132 for the Republican party, three in each of the 44 districts. Democrats will be naming 122, 94 committeemen and 28 committeewomen. The Republicans don't differentiate by sex — all of their 132 committeemen could actually be committeewomen if the voters so saw fit.

But the Democrats list whether they want men or women in the posts and in addition to their committeemen—two each in 39 districts, three each in Conewago No. 2, McSherrystown Second Ward, New Oxford and Strasburg, and four in Franklin — also elect one woman each in Berwick, Conewago, Conewago No. 1, Cumberland 2, East Berlin, Franklin, Germany, each of Gettysburg's four districts, Hamiltonban No. 1, Highland, Littleton, each of Littleton's wards, McSherrystown First Ward, Mt. Joy, Mt. Pleasant 1 and 2, New Oxford, Oxford, Reading, Strasburg and York Springs. McSherrystown Second Ward has the privilege of naming two women.

2 STATE COMMITTEEMEN

In addition there will be two state committeemen to be named — one by each party, and six delegates to the national conventions, two by the Republicans and four by the Democrats, plus two alternates by each party for the national conventions.

The Republicans will have to fill five of their committee posts by write-ins. Three committeemen are to be named by each of the districts. In Abbotstown there is only one candidate on the ballot, Minnie Alwine. In Bendersville there are two candidates, James R. Bucher and Ward Taylor; the third will have to be selected by written-in votes. Similarly in McSherrystown, Second Ward, a third committeeman will have to be written-in to join Louise Heiser and Charles A. Smith, who are on the ballot, and in Tyrone No. 1 Nedah V. Hartlaub and James L. Houser are the only candidates listed for the three posts.

Couple Excommunicated From Episcopal Church

IONIA, Mich. (AP)—An Ionia couple was excommunicated Sunday after charging their Episcopal priest with harboring "archaic beliefs and moral knowledge" in his criticism of a dance in a high school production of the musical "Daddy Yankee."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clore were stripped of their membership in the Ionia Episcopal Church, which by the Rev. Raymond Bierlein, who said he acted because of a letter written by the Clores published Friday in the Ionia Daily Sentinel-Standard. "We can no longer restrain our feelings concerning the objections voiced by our rector to the dancing in the current high school musical play," the letter said in part.

Termining a dance sequence "salacious and immoral," the Rev. Mr. Bierlein last Monday objected before the school board to the characterization of Lola

More Than 1,660 Youths Attend Elks Day Here

More than 1,660 high school students from throughout Pennsylvania gathered here Saturday for the annual Pennsylvania Elks Youth Day program.

Tours of the battlefield, lunch and a dance and a program on "Americanism" featured the day. The students were brought here under sponsorship of the 133 Elks lodges throughout the state.

Phillip Lovejoy, of Norman Beach, Fla., was the principal speaker on the subject, "Opportunities Unlimited."

"You are the ones who are going to develop the world of the future," he said. "And no one can tell what the future will bring. Twenty-five years ago the New York World's Fair tried to tell of the wonders that were to come. Similarly today the New York World's Fair is again seeking to give a glimpse into the future. But who knows what the future will bring. As a down-to-earth illustration at that New York World's Fair 25 years ago there were three models who displayed something new — nylon stockings. The millions of women who visited wore silk stockings. Today all women wear nylon stockings and I doubt if any will attend the fair garbed in silk stockings."

OFFER OPPORTUNITY

"It has been well said that 'Luck is what happens when preparation meets opportunity.' If your high school is teaching you how to think, how to be tolerant, then we have no fear for the future — for you will do a good job with it."

"Only you can answer the question: Where are you going? This is the land of opportunity, and that is all we can give you — opportunity. What you do with it is entirely up to you. Fortunately we do not hear very often today the statement, 'The world owes me a living.' Because the world owes you no debt. It can only let you work out your own destiny."

"The thing is to find out what you can do. You would like to be a farmer — then be a farmer, only the best ever. You are deaf and blind, then find one (Continued on Page 2)

"There is no telling what can be done. Sidney Poitier never went to school until he was 11. Last week he won the Oscar as the year's best actor. Wilma Rudolph suffered polio at age 7. In the Olympics at Rome she was the world's fastest woman. I was in a town of 6,000 people where a man had established a restaurant. Now a restaurant in a town that size should provide a man with a living. But this man attracted 600,000 people to his restaurant last year. He is three times a millionaire. Why? Because his restaurant, which he never moved from his small town, is one of the best in the world.

"Michaelangelo was praised for a statue. He replied 'The statue was always in the marble. I only let it out.' Each of us is a piece of marble that contains within it something of value. All we need is to let it out. You need not worry about what that thing will be. Never say 'only,' feeling sorry that you are 'only a housewife,' 'only a carpenter,' only this or that. We need farmers, we need housewives, we need all of the people being whatever it is they can be."

FLYNN SPEAKS

Walter A. Murphy, Frackville, a past exalted ruler of the Elks, appeared in Lincoln costume and recited the Gettysburg Address. Rev. Melvin Walter, Bedford, state chaplain of the Elks, gave the invocation. Noel Flynn, of the state and local Youth Day committee, welcomed the group.

The official welcome from the town was given by Mayor William G. Weaver.

H. Beecher Charnbury, state president of the Elks and secretary of Mines and Mineral Industries, commended Norman C. Bachelor, state Youth Day chairman and master of ceremonies, for the program, and his committee. Last year the Elks Youth Day program here won first prize nationally, he said. The 133 Elks lodges in Pennsylvania have 87,000 members, he said. In the U.S. there are 2,300 lodges with 1,330,000 members.

The state president said that, "for those less fortunate than we today," the Elks are inaugurating a program of providing transportation for youth suffering from cerebral palsy to various hospitals and centers.

He asked the assemblage, "How many of you think the driver's age should be raised to 21?" Not one voted in favor. He asked, "How many think the voting age should be reduced to 18?" About one-fourth signified they believed the voting age should be reduced.

VOLUNTEER SERVICE

The social action report revealed that in the parishes of the deanery 563 women gave 8,854 hours to community drives, library, election board, visits to the handicapped, county home and similar work, other than parish work.

The special diocesan activities chairman reported a total of $1,981 contributed toward the total of $12,000 presented to the bishop at the recent diocesan convention by the women of the diocese. This was the largest contribution from any deanery.

Mrs. Klunk announced that there will be seven retreats this year at St. Joseph's, Columbia, beginning with the weekend of June 13 and 14. The fee will be the same as in previous years, with a $5 registration fee. Reservations should be made with the parish spiritual development chairman or with Mrs. Klunk.

ANNUAL PILGRIMAGE

It was announced that the annual pilgrimage to the tomb of Mother Seton will be held Sunday, August 9, at 3 p.m. at St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, followed by benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at the national shrine grotto of Lourdes at Mt. St. Mary's College.

Deanery setups, including names and addresses of all officers and standing committee chairmen, must be in the hands of the diocesan president by June 1. It is therefore requested that all parish presidents have their set-ups in the hands of the deanery president-elect by May 15. Present officers and chairmen are responsible for the reports covering the period from January 1 to June 30 to be submitted by July 15.

Flashbacks from the Harrisburg Diocesan convention, held recently in Lebanon, were given by the retiring president, Mrs. Paul E. Althoff, who explained the proposed changes in the financial structure of the national council and the move to establish five principal committees, each with three sub-committees, instead of the present 15-committee arrangement. These matters will be decided at the national convention in Washington, D.C., in October. It was noted that the usual convention booklet was not distributed to delegates this year but it will be replaced by a yearbook containing committee outlines and a diocesan directory, for distribution in late summer. Next year's diocesan convention will be in West Shore District.

AUDITING COMMITTEE

Mrs. John Staub and Mrs. Fred Shrader were appointed as an auditing committee. The council voted to pay the expenses of the deanery president to the national convention in October. Mrs. Althoff thanked the officers and board members for their work of channeling information from diocesan to parish councils during her administration and the numerous other details involved in the organization. She also presented the newly elected officers to the assembly. In addition to Mrs. Sneeringer, they are Mrs. Marilyn Weaver, McSherrystown, first vice president; Miss Eleanor Miller, New Oxford, second vice president; Mrs. Loyola Krepps, McSherrystown, secretary; Mrs. Ralph Keifer, Hanover, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas G. French, Littlestown, director-at-large.

The Rev. Mr. Robert Maher, pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Church, Hanover, spoke to the women about their efforts through their work and through their programs, such as the guest exchange students, to create deeper ties of friendship with other countries of the world. Maher, who spent a month in South America recently, endorsed the work of the Peace Corps and its youthful members. Maher led the closing prayers for vocations, before the flower-decked shrine in honor of the Blessed Mother, which appeared on stage. Light refreshments were served by the hostess unit.

EmmitsburgOFFER TO BUY SITE ACQUIRED FOR HI SCHOOL

An Emmitsburg delegation, granted a hearing before Frederick County Commissioners on Wednesday, offered to purchase the Staub property on the border of Thurmont from the school board for whatever amount of money the board has invested in the site so far.

The usual offer came from Alex Resnick, Baltimore attorney, who won the court battle to retain a high school in Taneytown and who now has been employed to represent Emmitsburg.

It was backed by Patrick Boyle, president of the Emmitsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, which has recently been reorganized to fight the sending of all Emmitsburg public High School students to a consolidated high school at Thurmont.

FUNDS ARE RAISED

Boyle and his father, Bernard H. Boyle, Emmitsburg merchant, and Town Commissioner J. Norman Flax told the commissioners that funds had been raised for a court fight which could be used to purchase the Staub site if the school board would reconsider the Wivell-Jamison land midway between Emmitsburg and Thurmont as the site of the new north Frederick County high school.

Tow Commissioner Flax said that the difference in cost per acre of the two land sites should not matter, even though it was $250 more per acre for part of three Wivell-Jamison land, since the number of acres the school was located on could be cut below what the school board recommended for the school site, arriving at the same price for less but still enough ground midway.

Boyle said it would cost much more to grade the land at the Staub site than at the Wivell-Jamison, so the cost of buying and preparing the two school sites would end up about the same.

SEES MERGER

Arthur Elder, publisher of "The Emmitsburg Chronicle," said that both Emmitsburg and Thurmont would grow in future years to eventually merge into one metropolitan area and that a high school located midway between the two towns would then be in the center of population, at the best possible location for all students.

Rev. Louis B. Storms, pastor of Saint Joseph's Catholic Church and the Catholic high school in Emmitsburg, pointed out that the parochial high school would be turning away 150 applicants next year and all further increases in enrollments would have to go to public school since Catholic facilities were too overcrowded.

Others from Emmitsburg speaking against the location of the north county high school approved by the school board and agreed to by the commissioners were Robert G. Fitez, Robert C. Simpson, Mrs. C. A. Meyerholter, C. G. Fraley, John G. Humerick and Ernest R. Shriver.

Frederick Attorney David Weinberg also appeared at the hearing representing a developer, who is considering constructing 200 private homes in Emmitsburg.

E. L. WEIKERT HONORED

Edward L. Weikert, of Gettysburg R. 2, and Miami, Fla., who for the past two years served as president of the U.S. Civil Service Retired Employees, was honored by the membership at a special meeting and was presented with a U.S. Savings Bond in recognition of services rendered the association of 750 members.

LOWER RATES FOR 45,000 BY UC CHANGE

HARRISBURG (AP)—An incomplete survey indicates that about 45,000 Pennsylvania employers will qualify for a rate lower than the old 2 per cent minimum under the state's new Unemployment Compensation law.

The new law, passed by the 1963 General Assembly after weeks of heated argument between the Scranton Administration and organized labor, reduced the minimum U.C. rate from 2 to 1 per cent.

The survey, being conducted by the Bureau of Employment Security, which administers the program, covers about 63,200 of the state's 193,600 participating employers.

Jack Brown, director of the Bureau of Employment, said that although the survey was "still in pretty rough shape," the 45,000 figure is a "pretty good estimate."

The new law, in addition to reducing the minimum rate,

HOLD CHRISMER SERVICE

Funeral services were held from the Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, followed by a Requiem Mass at St. Joseph's Catholic Church Saturday morning for Mrs. Jeannette Chrismer, 88, wife of the late Edwin Chrismer, who died at the Jenkins Memorial Hospital, Baltimore, Wednesday. The Rev. Fr. Louis Storms officiated. Interment was made in the church cemetery. The pallbearers, all grandsons of the deceased, were Michael, James, David, Stephen and John Chrismer, Jack, Gordon and Carroll Proff and William Pravers.

TORONTO (AP)—E. J. (Ned) Pratt, 81, a poet who first gained international attention in 1930 with his tale of sea heroism, "The Roosevelt and the Antiope," died Sunday.

NEW YORK (AP)—Belle Baruch, 65, noted sportswoman and charity worker and daughter of financier Bernard Baruch, died Saturday.

also raised the taxable wage base from $3,000 to $3,600.

Brown said that for an employer, under the increased wage base, to pay less than he previously did into the U.S. fund he would have to pay at a rate below 1.6 per cent.

(Political Advertisement)

In November, 1962, we ran this picture of Governor William W. Scranton and candidate Harry D. Ridinger and described Ridinger as "A MAN WHO WILL ASSIST MR. SCRANTON IN EVERY WAY, AND PARTICULARLY IN CRUCIAL LEGISLATION WHEN THE CHIPS ARE DOWN"

In 1963 and 1964, Ridinger did courageously assist Governor Scranton in putting across, in the legislature, his "Program of Progress," for our great Commonwealth.

In April of 1964, we can honestly say to all Republican voters that Harry D. Ridinger will continue his solid support of one of the greatest Governors and best Republican administrations, in the history of our state.

Ridinger Has Faithfully Supported The Administration Programs For ...

1. GOVERNMENT REFORM

In the area of Government Reform the great legislative accomplishments were the tremendous improvement in Civil Service, the election reforms, the clean-up of harness racing, city-county consolidation for our largest community, and the new system for issuing professional licenses.

2. ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

In all four sections of Economic Development — namely highway construction, conservation of our natural resources, industrial development, and agriculture — 1963 saw more accomplished than in any previous year of Pennsylvania history.

By November of 1963 unemployment had fallen to 6.4% of the work force as opposed to 7.4% the year before. Average unemployment for 1963 was lower than Pennsylvania had experienced since 1957.

General business activity for the first ten months of 1963 was 5.2% greater than during the same period in 1962.

In the past year, 56,000 persons were able to leave public relief.

3. HUMAN SERVICES

The third great area of government concern is Human Services. Once again, 1963 was a year of historic accomplishment, both in services to all our citizens generally and in development of special programs to meet the needs of the afflicted and the unfortunate.

In terms of human services to the afflicted and unfortunate we dramatically increased aid to the mentally ill, the mentally retarded, the sick, the aged, the handicapped and the destitute.

4. EDUCATION

School districts are getting more financial assistance from Harrisburg than ever before. Teachers are better paid. Three more educational television stations will be on the air within another year. The first application to create a community college will be considered tomorrow. The newly-created State Board of Education has begun work on the top five educational problems of school subsidies, quality education, a master plan for higher education, community colleges, and technical education.

"There is no telling what can be done. Sidney Pottier never went to school until he was 11. Last week he won the Oscar as the year's best actor. Wilma Rudolph suffered polio at age 7. In the Olympics at Rome she was the world's fastest woman. I was in a town of 6,000 people where a man had established a restaurant. Now a restaurant in a town that size should provide a man with a living. But this man attracted 600,000 people to his restaurant last year. He is three times a millionaire. Why? Because his restaurant, which he never moved from his small town, is one of the best in the world.

"Michaelangelo was praised for a statue. He replied 'The statue was always in the marble. I only let it out.' Each of us is a piece of marble that contains within it something of value. All we need is to let it out. You need not worry about what that thing will be. Never say 'only,' feeling sorry that you are 'only a housewife,' 'only a carpenter,' only this or that. We need farmers, we need housewives, we need all of the people being whatever it is they can be."

FLYNN SPEAKS

Walter A. Murphy, Frackville, a past exalted ruler of the Elks, appeared in Lincoln costume and recited the Gettysburg Address. Rev. Melvin Walter, Bedford, state chaplain of the Elks, gave the invocation. The pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by William Kuhn, of the local lodge, district deputy grand exalted ruler of the South Central District. G. Noel Flynn, of the state and local Youth Day committee, welcomed the group.

The official welcome from the town was given by Mayor William G. Weaver.

H. Beecher Charnbury, state president of the Elks and secretary of Mines and Mineral Industries, commended Norman C. Bachelor, state Youth Day chairman and master of ceremonies, for the program, and his committee. Last year the Elks Youth Day program here won first prize nationally, he said. The 133 Elks lodges in Pennsylvania have 87,000 members, he said. In the U.S. there are 2,300 lodges with 1,330,000 members.

The state president said that, "for those less fortunate than we today," the Elks are inaugurating a program of providing transportation for youth suffering from cerebral palsy to various hospitals and centers.

He asked the assemblage, "How many of you think the driver's age should be raised to 21?" Not one voted in favor. He asked, "How many think the voting age should be reduced to 18?" About one-fourth signified they believed the voting age should be reduced.

VOLUNTEER SERVICE

The social action report revealed that in the parishes of the deanery 563 women gave 8,854 hours to community drives, library, election board, visits to the handicapped, county home and similar work, other than parish work.

The special diocesan activities chairman reported a total of $1,981 contributed toward the total of $13,000 presented to the bishop at the recent diocesan convention by the women of the diocese. This was the largest contribution from any deanery.

Mrs. Klunk announced that there will be seven retreats this year at St. Joseph's, Columbia, beginning with the weekend of June 13 and 14. The fee will be the same as in previous years, with a $5 registration fee. Reservations should be made with the parish spiritual development chairman or with Mrs. Klunk.

ANNUAL PILGRIMAGE

It was announced that the annual pilgrimage to the tomb of Mother Seton will be held Sunday, August 9, at 2 p.m. at St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, followed by benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at the national shrine grotto of Lourdes at Mt. St. Mary's College.

Deanery setups, including names and addresses of all officers and standing committee chairmen, must be in the hands of the diocesan president by June 1. It is therefore requested that all parish presidents have their set-ups in the hands of the deanery president-elect by May 15. Present officers and chairmen are responsible for the reports covering the period from January 1 to June 30 to be submitted by July 15.

Flashbacks from the Harrisburg Diocesan convention, held recently in Lebanon, were given by the retiring president, Mrs. Paul E. Althoff, who explained the proposed changes in the financial structure of the national council and the move to establish five principal committees, each with three sub-committees, instead of the present 15-committee arrangement. These matters will be decided at the national convention in Washington, D.C., in October. It was noted that the usual convention booklet was not distributed to delegates this year but it will be replaced by a yearbook containing committee outlines and a diocesan directory, for distribution in late summer. Next year's diocesan convention will be in West Shore District.

AUDITING COMMITTEE

Mrs. John Staub and Mrs. Fred Shrader were appointed as an auditing committee. The council voted to pay the expenses of the deanery president to the national convention in October. Mrs. Althoff thanked the officers and board members for their work of channeling information from diocesan to parish councils during her administration and the numerous other details involved in the organization. She also presented the newly elected officers to the assembly. Maher led the closing prayers for vocations, before the flower-bedecked shrine in honor of the Blessed Mother, which appeared on stage. Light refreshments were served by the hostess unit.

EmmitsburgOFFER TO BUY SITE ACQUIRED FOR HI SCHOOL

An Emmitsburg delegation, granted a hearing before Frederick County Commissioners on Wednesday, offered to purchase the Staub property on the border of Thurmont from the school board for whatever amount of money the board has invested in the site so far.

The usual offer came from Alex Resnick, Baltimore attorney, who won the court battle to retain a high school in Taneytown and who now has been employed to represent Emmitsburg.

It was backed by Patrick Boyle, president of the Emmitsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, which has recently been reorganized to fight the sending of all Emmitsburg public high school students to a consolidated high school at Thurmont.

FUNDS ARE RAISED
Boyle and his father, Bernard H. Boyle, Emmitsburg merchant,

and Town Commissioner J. Norman Flax told the commissioners that funds had been raised for a court fight which could be used to purchase the Staub site if the school board would reconsider the Wivell-Jamison land midway between Emmitsburg and Thurmont as the site of the new north Frederick County high school.

Tow Commissioner Flax said that the difference in cost per acre of the two land sites should not matter, even though it was $250 more per acre for part of three Wivell-Jamison land, since the number of acres the school was located on could be cut below what the school board recommended for the school site, arriving at the same price for less but still enough ground midway.

Boyle said it would cost much more to grade the land at the Staub site than at the Wivell-Jamison, so the cost of buying and preparing the two school sites would end up about the same.

SEES MERGER
Arthur Elder, publisher of "The Emmitsburg Chronicle," said that both Emmitsburg and Thurmont would grow in future years to eventually merge into one metropolitan area and that a high school located midway between the two towns would then be in the center of population, at the best possible location for all students.

Rev. Louis B. Storms, pastor of Saint Joseph's Catholic Church and the Catholic high school in Emmitsburg, pointed out that the parochial high school would be turning away 150 applicants next year and all further increases in enrollments would have to go to public school since Catholic facilities were too overcrowded.

Others from Emmitsburg speaking against the location of the north county high school approved by the school board and agreed to by the commissioners were Robert G. Fikez, Robert C. Simpson, Mrs. C. A. Meyerholter, C. G. Fraley, John G. Humerick and Ernest R. Shriver.

Frederick Attorney David Weinberg also appeared at the hearing representing a developer, who is considering constructing 200 private homes in Emmitsburg.

E. L. WEIKERT HONORED
Edward L. Weikert, of Gettysburg R. 2, and Miami, Fla., who for the past two years served as president of the U.S. Civil Service Retired Employees, was honored by the membership at a special meeting and was presented with a U.S. Savings Bond in recognition of services rendered the association of 750 members.

LOWER RATES FOR 45,000 BY UC CHANGE

HARRISBURG (AP)—An incomplete survey indicates that about 45,000 Pennsylvania employers will qualify for a rate lower than the old 2 per cent minimum under the state's new Unemployment Compensation law.

The new law, passed by the 1963 General Assembly after weeks of heated argument between the Scranton Administration and organized labor, reduced the minimum U.C. rate from 2 to 1 per cent.

The survey, being conducted by the Bureau of Employment Security, which administers the program, covers about 63,200 of the state's 193,600 participating employers.

Jack Brown, director of the Bureau of Employment, said that although the survey was "still in pretty rough shape," the 45,000 figure is a "pretty good estimate."

The new law, in addition to reducing the minimum rate,

HOLD CHRISMER SERVICE

Funeral services were held from the Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, followed by a Requiem Mass at St. Joseph's Catholic Church Saturday morning for Mrs. Jeannette Chrismer, 88, wife of the late Edwin Chrismer, who died at the Jenkins Memorial Hospital, Baltimore, Wednesday. The Rev. Fr. Louis Storms officiated. Interment was made in the church cemetery. The pallbearers, all grandsons of the deceased, were Michael, James, David, Stephen and John Chrismer, Jack, Gordon and Carroff Proff and William Pravers.

TORONTO (AP)—E. J. (Ned) Pratt, 81, a poet who first gained international attention in 1930 with his tale of sea heroism, "The Roosevelt and the Antiope," died Sunday.

NEW YORK (AP)—Belle Baruch, 65, noted sportswoman and charity worker and daughter of financier Bernard Baruch, died Saturday.

also raised the taxable wage base from $3,000 to $3,600.

Brown said that for an employer, under the increased wage base, to pay less than he previously did into the U.S. fund he would have to pay at a rate below 1.6 per cent.

(Political Advertisement)

In November, 1962, we ran this picture of Governor William W. Scranton and candidate Harry D. Ridinger and described Ridinger as "A MAN WHO WILL ASSIST MR. SCRANTON IN EVERY WAY, AND PARTICULARLY IN CRUCIAL LEGISLATION WHEN THE CHIPS ARE DOWN"

In 1963 and 1964, Ridinger did courageously assist Governor Scranton in putting across, in the legislature, his "Program of Progress," for our great Commonwealth.

In April of 1964, we can honestly say to all Republican voters that Harry D. Ridinger will continue his solid support of one of the greatest Governors and best Republican administrations, in the history of our state.

Ridinger Has Faithfully Supported The Administration Programs For...

1. GOVERNMENT REFORM

In the area of Government Reform the great legislative accomplishments were the tremendous improvement in Civil Service, the election reforms, the clean-up of harness racing, city-county consolidation for our largest community, and the new system for issuing professional licenses.

2. ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

In all four sections of Economic Development — namely highway construction, conservation of our natural resources, industrial development, and agriculture — 1963 saw more accomplished than in any previous year of Pennsylvania history.

By November of 1963 unemployment had fallen to 6.4% of the work force as opposed to 7.4% the year before. Average unemployment for 1963 was lower than Pennsylvania had experienced since 1957.

General business activity for the first ten months of 1963 was 5.2% greater than during the same period in 1962.

In the past year, 56,000 persons were able to leave public relief.

3. HUMAN SERVICES

The third great area of government concern is Human Services. Once again, 1963 was a year of historic accomplishment, both in services to all our citizens generally and in development of special programs to meet the needs of the afflicted and the unfortunate.

In terms of human services to the afflicted and unfortunate we dramatically increased aid to the mentally ill, the mentally retarded, the sick, the aged, the handicapped and the destitute.

4. EDUCATION

School districts are getting more financial assistance from Harrisburg than ever before. Teachers are better paid. Three more educational television stations will be on the air within another year. The first application to create a community college will be considered tomorrow. The newly-created State Board of Education has begun work on the top five educational problems of school subsidies, quality education, a master plan for higher education, community colleges, and technical education.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

At a meeting of the ladies of Mrs. R. G. McCree's, "Gettysburg Ladies Aid Society for the Christian Commission" was organized. We would request every one who feels any interest in such a society to meet at Mrs. Carson's on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Donations of all kinds will be acceptable.

We are happy to say, that in the city butter has declined, as well as gold. The "Anti-butter-eating societies" seem to have had some good effect upon the market, and we hope that the prices in this place will decline too. In Philadelphia and Baltimore it is quoted at 90 cents.

The Graefenburg Springs property (formerly Goodyear's) in Franklin township, this county, was recently sold by Messrs. John Downey and John Hoffman, assignees, to Mrs. Hostetter of Shippensburg at $3,500. One hundred acres of land go with the Springs.

The State Capitol: A strong effort is being made for the removal of the seat of Government from Harrisburg to Philadelphia, and a joint resolution to that effect has passed the Senate by a vote of 19 to 10; that city having offered one million of dollars for the erection of the necessary buildings.

The Southern rebels, as well as folks in the North, are fond of shaking their heads in view of Lieutenant General Grant's approaching campaign in Virginia, with the remark that, though Grant has heretofore been successful in beating the rebel generals, he has never yet encountered General Lee. That is true enough. But do these people ever think that, if it be true that Grant has never fought Lee, it is equally true that Lee has never met Grant?

Hon. Thad. Stevens, of Pennsylvania, who has worn a wig for these twenty years, was lately applied to in behalf of the St. Louis Sanitary Fair for a lock of his hair to put in a Congressional wreath.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The Governor has approved an act which provides that bicyclists and tricyclists "shall be entitled to the same rights and subject to the same restrictions on the public highways, as are prescribed by law in the case of persons using carriages drawn by horse."

The proposition of purchase of the William Penn manor farm in Bucks county, containing 137 acres, for $27,000 was defeated in the House by a vote of 79 yeas to 73 nays. Messrs. Brown and Cole voted for the bill. The Philadelphia Inquirer exposed the character of the scheme.

Don't take down your stoves. We may have some bleak, cold days between now and the middle of May.

On last Tuesday evening Daniel F. Sittell, Esq., of Latimer Twp., shot an American Eagle which measured 5 feet 6 inches from tip to tip of the wings. The Squire brought him down with a Flobert rifle, the shot breaking the leg and wing. The proud bird showed fight, but he was quickly disposed of. If the Squire had taken second thought, he doubtless would have let him soar to celebrate the Washington centennial.

Today's Talk

DAILY RETIREMENT

Like the young sapling, youth is full of growth and movement. Its substance is active and it spreads its reach in many a new direction. It laughs at any sort of retirement — even for a brief spell. It wants to test the universe.

With experience, however, come the true and realistic lessons of life. Our impulses whisper truths to us, and we are presented with the suggestion to think things over carefully before we act. We realize how little we have truly learned. We begin to understand our elders in years and experience.

It is upon reaching this period in our lives that we recognize how important it is for us to take frequent inroads of ourselves, and see just how far we have progressed, and how much mental and spiritual wealth we have stored away for the final tests that may mark us either as a success or a failure.

The most interesting companions are the men and women in the thick of activity. I do not believe in final retirement from the chosen work in life, but I do believe in a daily retirement — be it but a half hour a day — when all thoughts of business, personal worries, and confusion of mind are entirely dismissed and nothing but an honest appraisal of the day's tasks is taken into consideration.

Of course, such an appraisal is best taken at the close of the day, when most, or totally, alone. I have often taken such a retirement alone under the stars at night, or in some secluded spot of beauty that I have loved. Benjamin Franklin did something of this sort when he made a habit of jotting down his daily gains and losses, and thereby measuring his growth or shrinkage. We are too prone to let the days go on, dismissing them one by one, without personal inquiry as to what they have brought or left behind. We need brief retirement periods to get acquainted with ourselves, ever seeking to unravel a little bit more of life itself.

THE WAY OF ROBINS
I wonder if the mother robin wonders the coming day
When she must tell her babies from the nest to fly away.
I wonder if the father robin worries when they go
To battle in the world themselves
— but that we'll never know.

I've watched them in the spring-time
teach their little ones to fly,
I've known the day was coming
when they'd go to them:
goodbye.
And I've wondered if the mother didn't wish they'd stay about
So she could still assist them when the father turned them out.

The robins guard their children while they're young and very small.

The mother hovers near them just to answer every call.
But feathered and full-grown at last,
their time of training through,
They must work for food and shelter as their parents had to do.

I've watched the parent robins
teach their little ones to fly,
I've watched them drive them from the nest and often wondered why,
But robins have no money and no
stocks and bonds to leave,
And so they have to teach their young to struggle and achieve.

"OVERCOMING TEMPTATION"

Temptation is a cunning evil... that does the world no good... it nurtures weeds of hate and greed... and stifles brotherhood... how can we beat this Lucifer... this scourge of all mankind... I do believe the secret lies... within each person's mind... we all know what is right or wrong... yet somewhere on the way... a good percentage of us tend... to wave it to stray... the reason for this is that we... forget to pray to God... without His help the roads of life... are very rough to plod... to overcome temptation... prayer is the golden key... it locks the mind from evil... it fills the heart with grace... so when temptation calls on us... we never need despair... for it will run and hide away... if greeted with a prayer.

Bullets Edge St. Joe's 7-6 And Steal 11 Bases; Play At Navy On Tuesday

A sharp line single to left-center field by sophomore Frank Wolfgang gave the Gettysburg College baseball team a thrilling 7-6 win over St. Joseph's here Saturday afternoon in a Middle Atlantic Conference, university division contest.

Wolfgang, who was on base six times via a four-for-four in hits and two walks, also scored one run, stole two bases and batted in a pair of runs. The count was knotted at 6-6 going into the Bullets' half of the ninth.

After Bob Furney popped out, Bill Jacobsen got on via an infield miscue. Roy Allen lashed a single to center and Tom Petrone was intentionally walked, loading the bases. Al Hallam was a strike out victim. Hawk hurler John Butz then ran the count to 7-6 on Wolfgang and the sixth pitch became a screaming liner over shortstop driving in Jacobsen with the winning tally.

St. Joseph's tied the game in the eighth and it was Wolfgang who also broke that deadlock in the bottom of the frame. Hallam drew a walk, stole second and third and scored on Wolfgang's line shot to right.

TIES SB RECORD

Gettysburg runners had a field day on the base paths. Coach Gene Hummel's squad tied a Middle Atlantic Conference record by stealing a total of 11 bases, with Hallam collecting three. Urinus set the mark against Franklin and Marshall in April of 1962 when there were but two MAC divisions, northern and southern.

Another major factor which kept the Bullets going was the excellent exhibition of pitching from ace southpaw Bill Forester. Forester allowed but five scattered hits, walked two and struck out 11 batters. He is now 2-0 on the season and the contest was his second completed in three starts.

Gettysburg's number one hurler fired hitless ball for four innings. Then in the fifth the Hawks exploded for four hits and four runs. Singles by Joe Cellini, Ed Laird and Ed Walsh and John Butz's blasting triple to deep left field accounted for the four tallies. Gettysburg had held a 3-0 advantage going into the fifth. A walk to Jacobsen and Roy Allen's triple to right gave the Bullets their first run in the second. Gettysburg scored two more in the fourth on three St. Joseph's miscues.

SCORING SEE-SAWS

Gettysburg moved ahead 5-4 with two more scores in the bottom of the sixth. However, the Hawks tailed a run in the eighth to tie the game on two infield errors and a hit batsman. St. Joe's produced another tying run in the ninth on a walk to Ed McAndrews, who stole second, and Walsh's misjudged single to short right.

Walsh paced St. Joseph's with two hits for five trips to the plate. Jack Gaffney started on the mound for the visitors but needed help from Butz in the sixth. Butz is charged with his second loss in three decisions.

Gettysburg is now 2-2 on the season and 2-1 in the MAC. St. Joseph's has a 2-4-1 record on the year and is 0-3-1 in the conference. The Bullets will journey to Annapolis, Md., Tuesday to meet the Naval Academy.

COLLEGE RELAY TEAM WINS AT PENN RELAYS

Bob Linders, who holds the Gettysburg College school record in the 300-yard run, anchored the Bullets' sprint relay team to victory Saturday afternoon in the annual Penn Relays in Philadelphia.

The victory was the first for a Gettysburg team since 1943 when the Gettysburg mile relay team captured the Middle Atlantic division title. The year before, 1942, Gettysburg sent its best relay team in history into the two-day affair and it came back with not only the MAC but the college division event as well.

Finishing behind Gettysburg in the event Saturday was Fordham, Delaware State, Rutgers, Johnson C. Smith, Ursinus, Slippery Rock and Iona.

Jerry Staub got the Bullets started on the first leg of the race with a 50.4 seconds 400-yard dash. Staub has been coming closer with each meet to the Bullets 400 record currently held by Wayne Bucher at 49 seconds flat in 1942. Chris Hayden and Dale Boyd then followed in the 228's but Gettysburg was only in third place. Linders then took the baton 10 yards before the leaders and with his smooth, effortless pace, caught the two leaders and finished approximately 10 yards in front.

Linders is a 5'11", 145-pound native of Haworth, N.J. His last lap in Saturday's relay was clocked at 1:28.4. He holds the school record of 1:23.3 set last year.

Following the race, Coach Glad said, "I was a little worried about Staub before the race. He had a slight muscle pull. I told him to take it easy, particularly at the start. Then I told the rest of the team to take it easy on the baton passes. Just enough to keep us in good shape. Linders would then do the job."

The only other relay the Bullets took part in over the weekend was the MAC mile relay on Friday. Gettysburg took a fourth behind St. Joseph's, LaSalle and Temple. Hayden, Staub, Al Siss and Boyd carried the load on Friday.

Gettysburg swings right back into action this afternoon when the Bullets take on Shippensburg State on Memorial Field.

3 PHIL HOMERS HELP CULP WIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Right hander Ray Culp of the Philadelphia Phillies, bothered by a tender elbow since midseason last year, finally appears to be coming around.

Culp turned in his best pitching performance this spring Sunday and with three home runs to back him, the Phillies defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-1.

It was the seventh victory in nine games for the Phillies, who are leading the National League.

Culp hurled the first seven innings, allowing no runs and just two singles and two walks, before Manager Gene Mauch decided to rest him.

Jack Baldschun and Ed Roebuck wound it up.

Tony Taylor, Gus Triandos and Bobby Wine delivered the home runs. Wine's homer came with two men on in the sixth inning.

When Culp failed to come out in the eighth, some fans wondered if he had injured himself. Mauch later explained: "He threw 106 pitches and we decided he was getting a little tired. That's definitely the best he's thrown all spring."

It was Culp's first victory against one defeat.

PRACTICE TONIGHT

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Springfield Giants held a share of the Eastern League lead Monday, but it took a twin victory over Reading for them to catch up with the Williamsport Mets.

The Giants knocked off Reading 4-1 and 5-4 while the Mets were downing Roy 9-5. In the other game Charleston defeated Elmira 4-3.

Bobby Sanders broke out of a batting slump at Williamsport Sunday by driving home four runs on a homer and a single for the winning Mets. The Mets had to rally twice for the victory.

At Springfield, Damaso Blanco was the big gun, getting seven hits in eight at bats in the two games. And he got on base that eighth time on an error, because.

MOUNT SWEEPS DOUBLEHEADER FROM LOYOLA

Mt. St. Mary's upped its Mason-Dixon Conference record to 3-2 by sweeping a double-header 4-3 and 5-0 from Loyola, defending Northern Division titlist, Saturday afternoon at Baltimore.

In the opening game the Mounts tied the score with three runs in the top of the seventh inning after two were out and then pushed over a run in the eighth inning to take the verdict. Ed Folk hurled the route for the Mountaineers and limited Loyola to five hits.

In the second game Jim Broley spaced four hits in pitching the Mount to a shutout decision.

This afternoon Coach Jim Phelan's outfit was scheduled to meet Catholic University at Washington, D. C., in another M-D game.

YANKS REACH .500 MARK; BEAT ORIOLES

It's a long way in from the bullpen at Chicago's Comiskey Park. Plenty of time for a relief pitcher to size up the situation.

And you can bet young Frank Kreutzer was doing some fancy sizing up when White Sox manager Al Lopez waved him into his fourth big league game.

Lopez, renowned for his handling of pitchers, picked quite a spot for the rookie left-hander in Sunday's game against Boston.

The Red Sox were leading 1-0 in the second inning and the bases were loaded with one out.

Gettysburg Schools Report

The School, Community and Nation

The following articles have been written by the two scholarship students in Gettysburg High School who are here on the American Field Service program and one student who is attending the school under the International Christian Youth Exchange program, sponsored by the Christ Lutheran Church.

By RENATE BAHR
Munster, Germany

As my year in America draws faster and faster toward its end, I often think about how valuable my experiences are and what differences exist between our countries.

The answer to the first point is my firm belief that the possibility to live in an American family and community is an advantage for me over all other students who did not have this chance. It is not only a significant factor in my education, but I was fortunate to become acquainted with the American way of life with its different views and interests.

One fact by which I am always impressed most is the strong democracy, and how much it is affiliated with one's daily life, even every club and each meeting seems to stand on firm democratic patterns. I hope our country will follow your example more and more because, even though Germany has old cultures and traditions, it has still a young democracy.

IMPRESSED BY EDUCATION

I was impressed to find out how American students are educated — they grow up in a democratic way and will be able to handle this democracy in the right manner. One example of this would be all the different activities, where one can learn how to get along with others in the community.

When I traveled through other European countries, I still met some reserve against Germany, and somehow I expected it also in America, but I found friendliness and interest instead. I felt this especially when I had the chance to give some talks to various groups.

BROADER EXCHANGE

One fact, which I always appreciate anew, is the friendly relationship between teachers and students, which makes the American school not merely an institution for studying, but the teacher a friend and guide.

When an European arrives first in the U.S.A., he is usually overwhelmed by the vastness of the country. I am often afraid of getting lost in a crowd. The immensity of the country also makes me realize that, although I have lived here for almost a year, I will be only familiar with a very small part and that the circumstances in another area are very dissimilar to those which I have experienced. This fact causes many misunderstandings and prejudices among foreigners, who have not visited the States and who get an image of them mostly through the illustrations of their countrymen who have had experiences in America. But the vastness of the country will mostly restrict one's impressions to a small part of it and to one's personal surroundings. I have come to the conclusion that, in order to create a true image, the exchange of students between our countries must still be broadened, so that various impressions of different people will create a more adequate picture. I hope that I have given a small contribution to this aim, and that I will be able to continue it after I have returned to Germany.

BARBEL LERCHE
Kassel, Germany

It was on a sunny morning when we 800 exchange students from 13 different countries arrived in the harbor of New York. We all stood on deck and admired the famous skyscrapers of Manhattan in the morning sun. I am sure we all had the same thought: "Now I am in the 'new world'. Will it meet my expectations, or will I have to revise many of my concepts of America during the year?"

After having lived in the United States for eight months, not as a tourist, but as a member of an American family, an American high school and an American community, I realize that the European conception of the U.S.A. is rather fantastic and unrealistic.

If the word "America" is mentioned in Germany, unrestricted liberty and independence and the thought of the "country with the thousand opportunities" are closely connected with it. Many Europeans still do think: "In America one can do whatever pleases him." This, of course, is not true. In my opinion the American life is based on a very free, democratic foundation, but the life in the United States is also ruled by laws of society. These laws are not as strong as in Europe, and they are more flexible, but, nevertheless, they exist.

There is another item which is closely connected with the term "America" in Germany: That is open-mindedness of the Americans themselves. During my stay in the United States I have found this very true, and it is one of the things which impressed me very much in the "new world." This open-mindedness is proved by the small fact that Americans do not build a fence around their property like the Europeans do, and they hardly lock their doors. Everybody is welcome in their house, and a stranger feels at home after a short while. I myself, as a foreign exchange student, experienced this hospitality to a great extent, and I shall never forget it.

Connected with hospitality is the American interest for foreign countries and their eagerness to learn about them. In Germany it would be very difficult to find clubs or organizations to whom a foreigner could speak about his country.

I am enjoying the liberal and open-minded atmosphere in America very much and I hope to be able to take some of this American attitude with me to my home country.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
EYELASHES: TRUE OR FALSE? A lovely asks: What do you think of false eyelashes? I could use them, for my lashes are stubby and spare. I am timid about it, though. As worn by several friends, they look terribly phony.

The answer: False lashes can and should be undetectable. Human hair lashes, on an "invisible" nylon strip, are apt to appear the most natural. But of whatever fiber, they will never look like the real thing unless they are realistically handled. Desirable results stem from this method:

ideas as to how my life would be affected in a United States school. I knew that over here students give more importance to sports in the high schools than in my country. This made me very anxious to begin school here because of my interest in sports.

The student in the United States lives in the school and for the school. A student enters the school building normally at 8:30 in the morning and leaves at 3:30 in the afternoon. Sometimes after school students have to attend co-curricular activities. Also, part of his social activities are closely related to school.

This living for and in the school has a tremendous influence in developing school spirit. But this can also have its negative points. There can also be students that, in not taking part in school activities, in other words, not living in and for the school, will be bored with this all-day routine. This could very easily be one of the causes of the dropouts.

BOTH ARE GOOD

The time of beginning and ending school in the United States is different than in Brazil. In my country I attended a private school and classes began at 7 o'clock in the morning and ended at 12 o'clock. We had all afternoon to study and do homework and we even had time to practice a sport or do anything we wanted in the remaining time. This way our social life tends to be more decentralized from school.

Another difference is that in the United States the students take seven subjects a year in their schedules. In Brazil, each student takes 10 subjects and among these we have twice a week a class in Bible instruction, which is required by federal law. Because of so many subjects, we do not have the same schedule every day. The daily schedule is varied and this results in school on Saturdays, too. In Brazilian schools the students never move from the rooms. They begin classes in one room and stay there all day until classes are over; the teachers move from class to class.

I could not tell which system I like better, if asked. Each system is designed according to the educational needs of the people and in relation to the national goals of their respective countries.

So, I think both are good.

Mongolia Ousts Red Technicians

TOKYO (AP) — Mongolia, Moscow's only Asian Communist ally, has asked Chinese Communist technicians to leave the country, the New China News Agency said Saturday.

The first group of Chinese personnel left Ulan Bator by train Friday and got a friendly sendoff, the agency said.

NCNA gave no reason for the expulsion beyond stating:

"Under an agreement between the Chinese and Mongolian governments, Chinese personnel began to come to Mongolia in 1955 to help in the country's socialist construction.

"Now they are sent home by the Mongolian government in groups in accordance with the desire of the Mongolian government."

1. Before initial wearing, size lash strips to lids. Strips should extend no further than line of natural growth. To gauge sizing, hold strip with tweezers and place on lid. After removing, snip off excess.

2. Trim lash length with manicure scissors, to approximate nature's best effort. This means lashes fan out from inner corner and taper slightly at outer corner.

3. Feather tips of lashes, either by snipping off occasional ones or by flicking all with scissor blades.

4. Make applications according to instructions on package—they differ with brands. Be sure, however, to apply liner and mascara before attaching lashes; to keep eyes open while attaching them.

5. To remove, ease off from inner corner.

6. After several wearings, cleanse lashes with warm water and soft, clean mascara brush. Recurl when necessary around thick pencil — never with metal curler.

STATE TOTALS 740 ACCIDENTS HERE IN 1963

Final figures released today by the state Bureau of Traffic Safety show that 740 traffic accidents occurred in Adams County during 1963. This shows a 2.1 per cent increase over 1962 when 725 accidents were posted.

Commissioner of Traffic Safety Harry H. Brainerd and his statistical staff reported that, of the total number of accidents in Adams County, 23 persons were killed, or eight more than in 1962. Included in this total are four urban deaths and 19 rural deaths. In addition, Adams County accidents injured 443 persons in 1963.

In a complete breakdown of the 740 traffic accidents, the commissioner reported 20 fatalities, 256 nonfatal and 464 property damage accidents.

Favor Kennedy For LBJ Running-Mate

Thomas W. Powell, president of the Young Democrats Club at Mount Saint Mary's College, Emmitsburg, reported today that in an election conducted among the students to select a vice presidential running mate for President Lyndon B. Johnson in November 37 per cent of those balloting favored Attorney General Robert Kennedy; 22 per cent were for Hubert Humphrey; 12 per cent, Adlai Stevenson; 11 per cent, Sargent Shriver; 11 per cent, Robert McNamara; two per cent, William Fulbright; five per cent were for scattered candidates or showed no preference at this time.

In comparison to a recent national poll the collegians followed the national trend with Robert Kennedy in the favored position. The students, however, selected Humphrey ahead of Stevenson and placed Shriver and McNamara in close contention for the third position.

$389,000 worth of property damage as a result of motor vehicle accidents in 1963, Mr. Brainerd reported.

The commissioner urged all citizens of Adams County to use greater caution on the highways throughout 1964. "I congratulate you on any improvements in your record, and I enlist your wholehearted support to overcome any failures you may have had." "Let's all work together," Brainerd requested, "both on the county level and on the state level, so that every Pennsylvanian can be proud of his state's safety record."

Prices, though mixed, showed a firm tendency on balance at the opening but demand was lacking and as the session wore on more minus signs appeared. The trend was lower among steels, motors, rails, cigarettes, building materials, aerospace issues and nonferrous metals.

never thought they would die before they had completed the task of rearing their children. But death came to them, and this June their sons and their daughters, raised by their fellow Moose members through the child city of Mooseheart, will graduate from the finest high school in Illinois. And if they qualify, they will go on to higher education at the expense of your fellow Moose.

"Not long ago a young man in Millerstown died of cancer. He had nine children. Thirty-eight days after his death, his wife also died of cancer. Normally their children would be placed in foster homes and never again be a family. But their father was a member of the Moose. He had as a matter of fact, up to the time of his death, paid $64 in dues and I mention this only to show how valuable a Moose membership is. His nine children were taken to Mooseheart as a family. They have grown up as a family. One now is studying to be an engineer. Another is studying to be a registered nurse. The rest are in elementary and high school. The Moose will have spent $250,000 gladly to educate

Weddings

Stickler-Bankert

The wedding of Miss Joyce Marlene Bankert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Bankert, Littlestown R. 1, to John Chappell Stickles, son of Mrs. Susan Stickles, Hampstead, Md., and the late Edward Stickles, was solemnized recently at St. Mary's Lutheran Church, Silver Run, Md. The Rev. Roland A. Ries performed the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Robert Spangler was the organist and accompanied the soloist, Louis Scharon, who sang "The Lord's Prayer." The altar was decorated with white gladioli, snapdragons and carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a navy blue suit, trimmed in light blue with light blue accessories and a matching veil. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds with baby white carnations.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Stickles, Sykesville, Md. R. 3, brother and sister-in-law of the groom. Mrs. Stickles wore a pale blue suit with accessories of navy blue and carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds and pink and white carnations.

The ushers were Dean C. Stickles, Hampstead, Md., and Cecil Stickles, Finksburg, Md. R. 2, brothers of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a pink silk shantung shift with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a navy and white dress with beige accessories and a similar corsage.

Following a reception in the church hall for 150 guests the couple left on a wedding trip to West Virginia. For traveling the bride chose a navy suit with a white rosebud corsage. Upon their return they will reside at Littlestown R. 1.

The bride is a 1962 graduate of Westminster High School and is employed by the Federal Bureau of Health, Education and Welfare, Social Security Administration, Woodlawn, Md. The groom is a 1962 graduate of North Carroll High School and is employed by the Sykesville Construction Company.

that member's children.

"And in your declining years, if misfortune should strike you and you become dependent, you and your wife can go to Mooseheart in Florida. There everything is available for those of golden years. Statistics show that those at Mooseheart live on an average 10 years longer than the average person.

ASSAULTS ATTACH ON FAITH

"In listening to the degree work, you learned much of the ideals of our order. You know that patriotism and belief in God are requirements to enter. Two weeks ago the body of Gen. Douglas MacArthur was entombed in Norfolk. On his tomb is the wording, 'A soldier who tried to do his duty as God gave him to see his duty.' While General MacArthur's body was lying in state Mrs. Madelyn Murray of Baltimore, demanded of the Baltimore school board that it take out of the pledge of allegiance to the flag the words 'under God.' Ordinarily we would brush this off as the work of a crackpot. But this is the woman who forced the Bible and daily prayer out of the public schools. If she forces the words 'under God' from the pledge, will the next be removal of the words 'In God We Trust' from our coins. Where will her activities end?"

"Our founding fathers knew that true liberty exists only where the spirit of the Lord is. This country has come a long way under God. I ask you as patriots and as believers in God to do all you can to keep our nation from banishing God from its every official act."

Hubcap Thieves Face Court Action

Four Adams County youths have been released in custody of their parents and reports have been filed with juvenile officers after the youths were apprehended in Hanover Friday night following the theft of a hubcap from a parked automobile.

Police said the boys, aged 15 and 16, from Abbottstown and New Oxford, were apprehended as they were moving north on Carlisle St. The hubcap was removed from a 1957 DeSoto automobile owned by Kenneth B. Nickey, Hanover, about 11:30 p.m. Borough police were notified of the incident and later discovered another 1957 DeSoto auto leaving the borough. Officers gave pursuit and said they discovered the missing hubcap in the possession of the youths.

The program opened with the singing of "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us," followed by scripture reading by Mrs. Kermit Spence. James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two stories on the same day may seem ironic to American allies and the Communist world but make sense to the Johnson administration.

This one Thursday: Undersecretary of State George Ball told U.S. allies that selling locomotives to Cuba (the French are reported considering it) "would have an even greater impact" in support of Fidel Castro than the recent sale of British buses.

And this one Thursday: The United States is seriously considering the sale of synthetic rubber plants to Communist Romania, authoritative sources reported.

OUT TO STRANGLE

Why would it be wrong—from the American view—for an ally to sell Castro locomotives but perhaps all right for the United States to sell a synthetic rubber plant to Romania, since both countries are linked to Russia? To mix the picture up some more the Allies have sold many things to Communist countries and this country has given assistance to Yugoslavia, sold wheat to Russia, and had good tariff relations with Poland. The United States wants to strangle Castro economically and thus wreck him or force changes in communism in Cuba. How? By a boycott shutting off all trade with him, particularly in items which might help him survive.

DRAIN ON RUSSIA

And, the thinking goes, the harder up he is, the more of a drain he will be on Russia which is now estimated to be helping him at the rate of about $1 million a day.

Ball said in a speech at Rome, Va., the locomotives would help the Cuban economy because its main export, sugar, is carried to port almost entirely by rail and her railroad system is "presently in a critical state of disrepair."

He explained that while Castro is not a military threat to the United States it is a Communist menace to Latin America by trying to subvert governments and set off terror campaigns.

LEADING EXAMPLE

But Romania is considered a leading example of a Communist nation trying to loosen its ties with Moscow and is busily pursuing trade with other Western nations.

An ally might ask: If Castro can get help from any of the Western nations, and therefore must rely more and more on Moscow, then wouldn't his ties with Russia be strengthened instead of weakened?

RUSK GIVES REASONS

Secretary of State Dean Rusk has acknowledged that the United States treats different Communist countries differently, and he gave three reasons:

To encourage the individual Communist nations toward more independence and internal freedom; to try to work out relations or agreements with various Communist states to reduce the danger of war; and to make the expansion of communism too costly to be worthwhile, which is what this country hopes in the case of its boycott on Cuba.

But—the American attempt to get its allies and friends to boycott Castro is far from successful. The French have sold him about $10 million in trucks, the British about $11 million in buses. Yugoslavia, Spain and Morocco have dealt with him.

Called Failure

Last month Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee, said the U.S. economic policy toward Cuba is a failure:

"I am not arguing against the desirability of a boycott but against its feasibility. It is simply not within our power to compel our allies to cut off trade with Cuba unless we are prepared to take drastic sanctions against them."

The United States hasn't shown any willingness to invoke drastic sanctions. It has tried mild ones.

Meanwhile, the Western nations, seeing their chance to make a buck, do more and more trading with communism. In 1961, the last year for which complete figures are available, the Communist bloc imported $5 billion worth of goods from the West.

RUBY TRIES TO END LIFE IN JAIL CELL

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby, a lump on his almost bald head from colliding with a cell wall, appears in court today as defense lawyers seek his admittance to a hospital for more mental tests.

Sheriff Bill Decker said the condemned slayer of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald charged head-first against his Dallas County jail cell wall early Sunday in a "deliberate act."

Ruby's lawyers asked a few days ago that Judge Joe B. Brown order him placed in a hospital. The former night club operator pleaded insanity in his March trial, but was sentenced to death.

Under heavy guard, Ruby was sped to a hospital for skull X-rays which a hospital attendant said confirmed the injury was minor.

Decker said Ruby attempted to rip his clothing when he was returned to his cell. The few jail furnishings were then removed from the cell as a precautionary measure, with only a mattress left.

Cites Successes By ARA Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — William L. Batt Jr., says Luzerne County, Pa., is a symbol of the success of the area redevelopment program launched by Congress in 1961.

Batt, area redevelopment administrator, told a recent closed door hearing of a House Appropriations subcommittee that ARA has approved $1,739,000 in federal aid in Luzerne County since the program's inception.

Projects financed with this aid, he said, will employ more than 1,000 persons when they are completed and lead to an additional 700 jobs in other business and industry.

Some other projects in neighboring counties, he added, have helped the job situation in Luzerne.

Four Die As Plane Dives Into Water

VALDEZ, Alaska (AP) — A plane which had just left Gov. William Egan at the Valdez airport plunged into Prince William Sound about a mile off shore late Saturday, killing the four men aboard.

On the Alaska National Guard plane were Maj. Gen. Thomas Carroll, adjutant general of Alaska; Lt. Col. Thomas Norris, Anchorage, pilot; Maj. James Rowe, Anchorage, copilot, and T. Sgt. Kenneth Ayers, Anchorage, flight engineer.

Search boats recovered only wing tanks, an oil tank, a brief case, an uninflated life raft and a head rest from a seat.

HOME SEES END TO WAR THREAT

LONDON (AP) — In a slap at Britain's ban-the-bomb movement, Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home says foreign policy results aren't won by "sitting around in damp streets or marching about."

Sir Alec gave his own formula for getting results in the cold war in two political speeches at Slough and Reading Friday. "You get them by keeping your guard, retaining your nuclear arms so war cannot break out, and by going to the conference table and insisting that matters of dispute should be settled there," he said.

Douglas-Home said the danger of war with the Soviet Union "is, in my opinion, out." He cited the agreement by the Soviet Union, the United States and Britain this week to cut back on the production of fissionable material for military purposes.

Expect Showdown In Kyrenia Pass

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — A showdown appeared to be shaping up today for control of strategic Kyrenia Pass where Greek Cypriot forces have pinned down Turkish defenders dug in around medieval St. Hilarion Castle.

Greek Cypriots felt out Turkish positions with mortar, machine-gun and rifle fire. They denied, however, that they were trying to hit the castle, which the Turkish Cypriots use as their stronghold in controlling the pass along the Kyrenia-Nicosia Road.

The Turks, caught by surprise when the attack opened Saturday, cannot lose much more ground without surrendering control of the pass. Greek Cypriot forces have advanced to within a mile of this highway between the capital and the north coast.

WHAT NEXT?

KENNEWICK, Wash. (AP) — The H. M. Egberts told police someone kept walking across their lawn so they put up signs. The signs were torn down.

Next, the couple built a fence. That also was torn down.

The Egberts countered with a concrete retaining wall. Even that was ripped down.

Next move? The Egberts aren't sure.

MEMORIAL DAY

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Alabama state employees have a holiday today, but the reason for celebrating is doubtful for some.

The official reason for the holiday is Confederate Memorial Day, which fell on Sunday. The workers were given today off instead.

But today is the 142nd anniversary of the birth of Union Gen. Ulysses S. Grant.

SPRING THAWS THREATEN CITY HURT BY QUAKE

By JOE RIGERT

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Alaska's largest city, parts of it resting on a bed of blue clay, is thawing out from a long winter's freeze.

There is nothing unusual about the breakup, as Alaskans call it. Every year, the warming weather defrosts the refrigerated soil and releases the ice-bound rivers.

Alaskans look forward to spring's coming — out party, when the lawns green up, the leaves and flowers burst forth.

CHARGED BY QUAKE

But the great Alaskan earthquake has changed all that.

To the citizens of Anchorage, the breakup has become a threat rather than a promise.

The earthquake posed the threat; the thaw may add to it, and the blue clay is at the bottom of it.

The clay, underlying parts of the city with an estimated thickness of more than 250 feet in some places, has been blamed for the earthquake-triggered landslides that caused a major share of the $200-million damage in the Anchorage area.

CLAY WEAKENED

Geologists say the underlying clay, which is weak and unstable even in normal circumstances, remains deeply disturbed from the seismic upheaval.

A group of 40 geologists, after a study, said spring thawing probably will weaken the clay mass even more in four major slide areas along Anchorage bluffs.

The likely result, they said, will be slumping, settling, and cracking of foundations.

The geologists also said another earthquake, even though less intense than that of March 27, probably would cause landslides along the vulnerable bluffs.

ASK EVACUATION

In view of the threat, geologists recommended evacuation of the slide-damaged bluff areas and opposed any business or residential use—all pending further study. The areas involve more than 100 city blocks and is the site of many of its finer homes and buildings.

The extent of the problem may when the earth-frozen to a depth of five feet in some places—is expected to thaw.

The City Council left evacuation of the designated hazard areas to the discretion of residents, but decided to withhold permits for repairs or new construction pending the studies.

A possible $50-million urban renewal plan in the downtown area calls for a large park and parking lots—rather than buildings—in potential slide zones.

Man Dies After Kidney Transplant

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Douglas Cobb, 37, of Thornton, Delaware County, who received a kidney transplant in Hahnemann Hospital, died Sunday of an infection, a hospital spokesman reported.

The spokesman said the body's tendency to reject outside organs requires the use of drugs to control the "rejection mechanism."

He said these sometimes make the patient more susceptible to infections and this was the case in Cobb's death.

Cobb received the kidney transplant on Jan. 30.

STRETCH RUN BY CRAMPTON WINS IN TEXAS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Bruce Crampton stole Arnold Palmer's script to win the $40,000 Texas Open golf tournament with the greatest come-from-behind performance of the year.

Palmer skipped the Texas Open this time, after winning it three times, but Crampton subbed beautifully for the man with all that money and noted for his stretch runs. Palmer once made up eight strokes.

Crampton, the 28-year-old Australian, shot a closing five-under-par 65 over the 6,715-yard Oak Hills Country Club course to come from a tie for 16th to the championship by one stroke with 273 for 72 holes. He made up six strokes.

TIE FOR SECOND

Tied for second were Jan (Chichi) Rodriguez, a Puerto Rican, and Bob Charles, the left-hander from New Zealand, who wound up with 274.

Rodriguez had a chance to tie for it when he came into the final green seven-under-par for the tournament but he missed a six-foot putt and took a bogey.

Anyway, the Texas Open turned out to be a show for the foreigners—three took the first three places. A foreigner never before had won this oldest tournament in golf.

Crampton's $5,800 first money here gave him a total of $13,361.67 and vaulted him from 23rd to eighth in the list.

ASKS AID FOR APPALACHIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson prepared to submit to Congress Monday a billion-dollar program to aid nine Appalachian states, including Pennsylvania.

The other states are Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia and North Carolina.

Johnson visited three of the states, including Pennsylvania, Friday to dramatize what he termed his "war on poverty."

At his news conference Saturday, he gave figures which indicated the aid program eventually would cost $1 billion or more, including $840 million for 2,150 miles of highways.

The president said the cost during the first year, beginning July 1, would come to about $220 million. Such outlays, he said, would not affect the budget because they will be taken from a contingency fund already approved.

KNIGHTS HOLD

Howard S. Fox gave the invocation and benediction and led the recitation of the Apostles' Creed and the Lord's Prayer during which the approximately 100 knights stood with raised swords.

COMMANDER SPEAKS

Samuel Higinbotham led singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers" by the assembly. Paul G. Rodenhauer, Columbia, commander of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Pennsylvania, spoke briefly. James P. Hays, commander of the Gettysburg Knights Templar, welcomed the group.

Dr. Dunkelberger said: "April is a month of pilgrimage. Chaucer introduces his 'Canterbury Tales' with the idea that April is the month when people go on pilgrimages. It is suggested that John Bunyan completed his 'Pilgrim's Progress' in April. 'Pilgrimages have always had a prominent place in the Christian tradition. Today the idea of tourist seems to have replaced the idea of pilgrimage. A pilgrimage is going through some place to go to some thing, guided by some person. A tourist simply goes somewhere to enjoy the moment.'

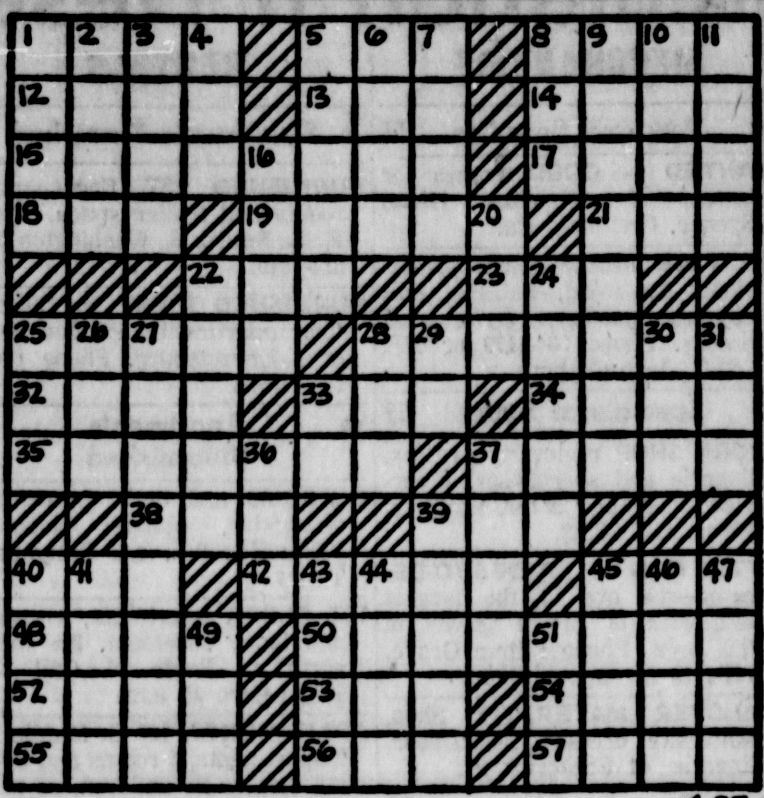

"We realize that this is not our permanent home, that we are passing through this life on a pilgrimage to the Creator Who made our souls restless until they rest in Him. 'The role of the pilgrim is to be a good steward of what he has today — but not to become permanently attached to it. 'And as pilgrims we need an adequate guide if we are to reach our destination. Today our attention, through this service, is called to the ascension of our Lord. The Bible tells us He led them out to Bethany. He raised His hands to bless them. He is still leading. He is still blessing. He is the One Who lifts us up to see the life as a whole — a pilgrimage to everlasting peace with God."

Republican Voters and Members of Adams County Republican Committee

DO NOT BE MISLED

In spite of the statements of the chairman in the advertisements paid for from the committee funds the Adams County Republican Committee has not recommended, nor even been asked to recommend, a slate of candidates.

This is an open Primary where individual Republicans choose the candidates they will elect in November.

Help put an Adams County man in Washington.
